

03

Laser Land Levelling

Rationale

Laser levelling technique is well known for achieving accuracy in land levelling and offers a great potential for water conservation and higher crop productions. Introduced in Punjab province, Pakistan in 1985 with government support to 11,500 farmers the practice has been introduced in Sindh province but uptake of the technology is low despite its clear advantages.

