

Scaling Potential

Intercropping thus presents a sustainable pathway for boosting productivity and resilience in Pakistan's agricultural sector. Scaling is promising, particularly in regions facing water scarcity and the impacts of climate change particularly in command areas of the left-bank canals of Guddu and Sukkur Barrages.

